FOREWORD

The panorama of experiences encompassed by school life may be compared to rays of light of varying lengths. They mold in part our personalities and our destinies.

The rays of light converge and blend to form the precious prism of friendships which will endure and deepen.

The 1966 Tiger Yearbook Committee hopes that this publication will succeed in keeping the prism of friendships aglow throughout the lengthening years.

THEME

EMERSON IS RIGHT IN SAYING THAT FRIENDSHIP CAN'T BE HURRIED. It takes time to ripen. It needs a background of humorous, wearisome, or even tragic events shared together, a certain tract of memories shared in common, so that you know your own life and your companion's have really moved for some time in the same channel. It needs interchange of books, meals together, discussion of one another's whims with mutual friends, to gain a proper perspective. It is set in a rich haze of half-remembered occasions, sudden glimpses, ludicrous pranks, unsuspected observations, midnight confidences when heart spoke to candid heart.--Christopher Morley, "On Making Friends"

WE DEDICATE . . . to Miss Mattie M. Hall

When we reflect deeply on Second Ward's most admirable qualities, one person inevitably looms to the forefront of our minds. For over thirty years her hands and heart have helped to mold the illustrious life and vibrant spirit of our school. Her rare love for Second Ward runs deep like a precious vein of gold and is constantly evident in her relentless pursuit of lofty ideals for the improvement of the total life of our school and community.

For consistent and notable service we offer to you, Miss Hall, our profound gratitude and warm wishes for continued achievements.

She is open, direct, expressive.

Desired formula: 1/10 talk--9/10 ACTION

Can you spell IDLE, Miss Hall?

Shame on him if he misses that basket!

History and

Second Ward High School was organized in 1923 with a physical plant designed to accommodate an enrollment of 600 students. The community looked to Mr. W. H. Stinson for leadership and guidance during his principalship which lasted until 1931.

Mr. J. E. Grigsby succeeded Mr. Stinson in 1931. The curriculum offerings at Second Ward High School consisted of traditional subjects: English, mathematics, social studies, Latin, French, sewing, cooking, and masonry. During the administration of Mr. Grigsby, the following courses were added: art, auto repairing, commercial education, driving education, diversified occupations, standard courses in music--band, orchestra, journalism, standard physics, education courses in psychology, family living, shoe repairing, industrial education and mechanical drawing.

Every child was afforded an opportunity to choose a well-balanced meal in the school cafeteria at a small fee.

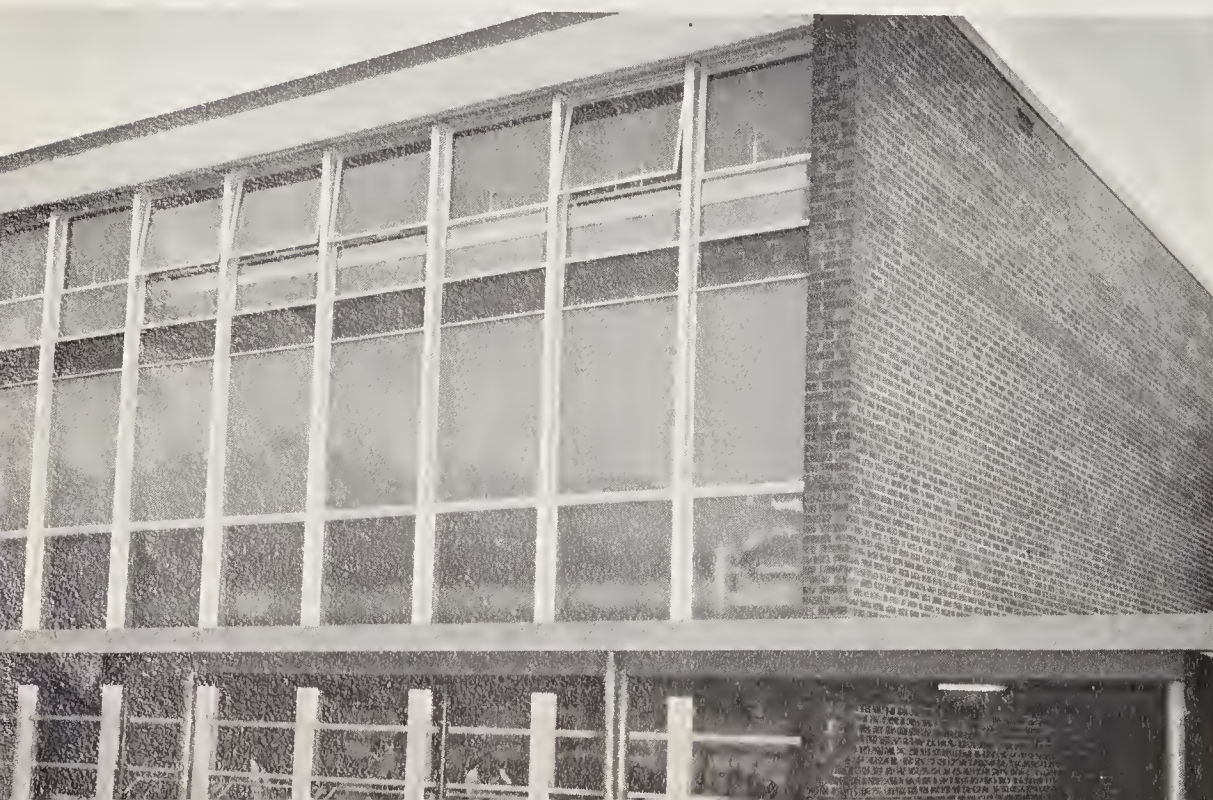

In 1938 the school applied for and was granted accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The school is also accredited by the North Carolina State Department of Education.

The Library expanded in material contents thereby increasing educational resources for all students. Many improvements were recognized during the years 1931-1957 of Mr. Grigsby's principalship. He retired from the profession in 1957.

Dr. S. E. Durante came to Second Ward High School as its third principal in 1957. Many changes occurred under his capable leadership. Curriculum expansion and improvement, the guidance programs, improved physical conditions (buildings and grounds), students' attendance records, student achievements and student development are recognized by the community at large as being contributing factors for upgrading of the school within the past five years. Second Ward looks forward and places much emphasis on the value of human dignity.

Mr. E. E. Waddell came to Second Ward High School August 1963 to serve the school as its fourth principal.

Alma Mater

Since the beginning, Second Ward has expanded both physically and academically. Beginning with only a few vocational courses, home economics and industrial arts, aside from the regular courses, it now offers shoe repairing, masonry, auto mechanics, industrial cooperative training, distributive education, Bible and commercial education. The physical plant has grown from one building to five and annex.

Second Ward is located in the center of Brooklyn area at 501 South Alexander Street, approximately four blocks from the offices of the Board of Education. The school serves both junior and senior high students. There are six structures. The main building faces Alexander Street with a newly constructed wing added in 1955-56, housing the library, business education department, cafeteria, and band room. The gymnasium was constructed in 1950. The auto mechanics building is located between the main building and the gymnasium.

There are 1,501 students enrolled at Second Ward this year. The school staff is made up of 72 members; 8 persons compose the cafeteria staff; and 5 members are on the custodial staff; a public health nurse completes the group.

The Neighborhood Youth Corps, a job opportunity for students, is now a part of Second Ward's school program.

We will continue to provide those educational experiences which we hope will lead to better citizenship.

ALMA MATER

Dear Second Ward, Our Alma Mater,

We pledge ourselves to thee.

We'll love you e'er as onward we go

If thou our guide will be.

The thoughts that in our minds you leave

Shall ever treasured be.

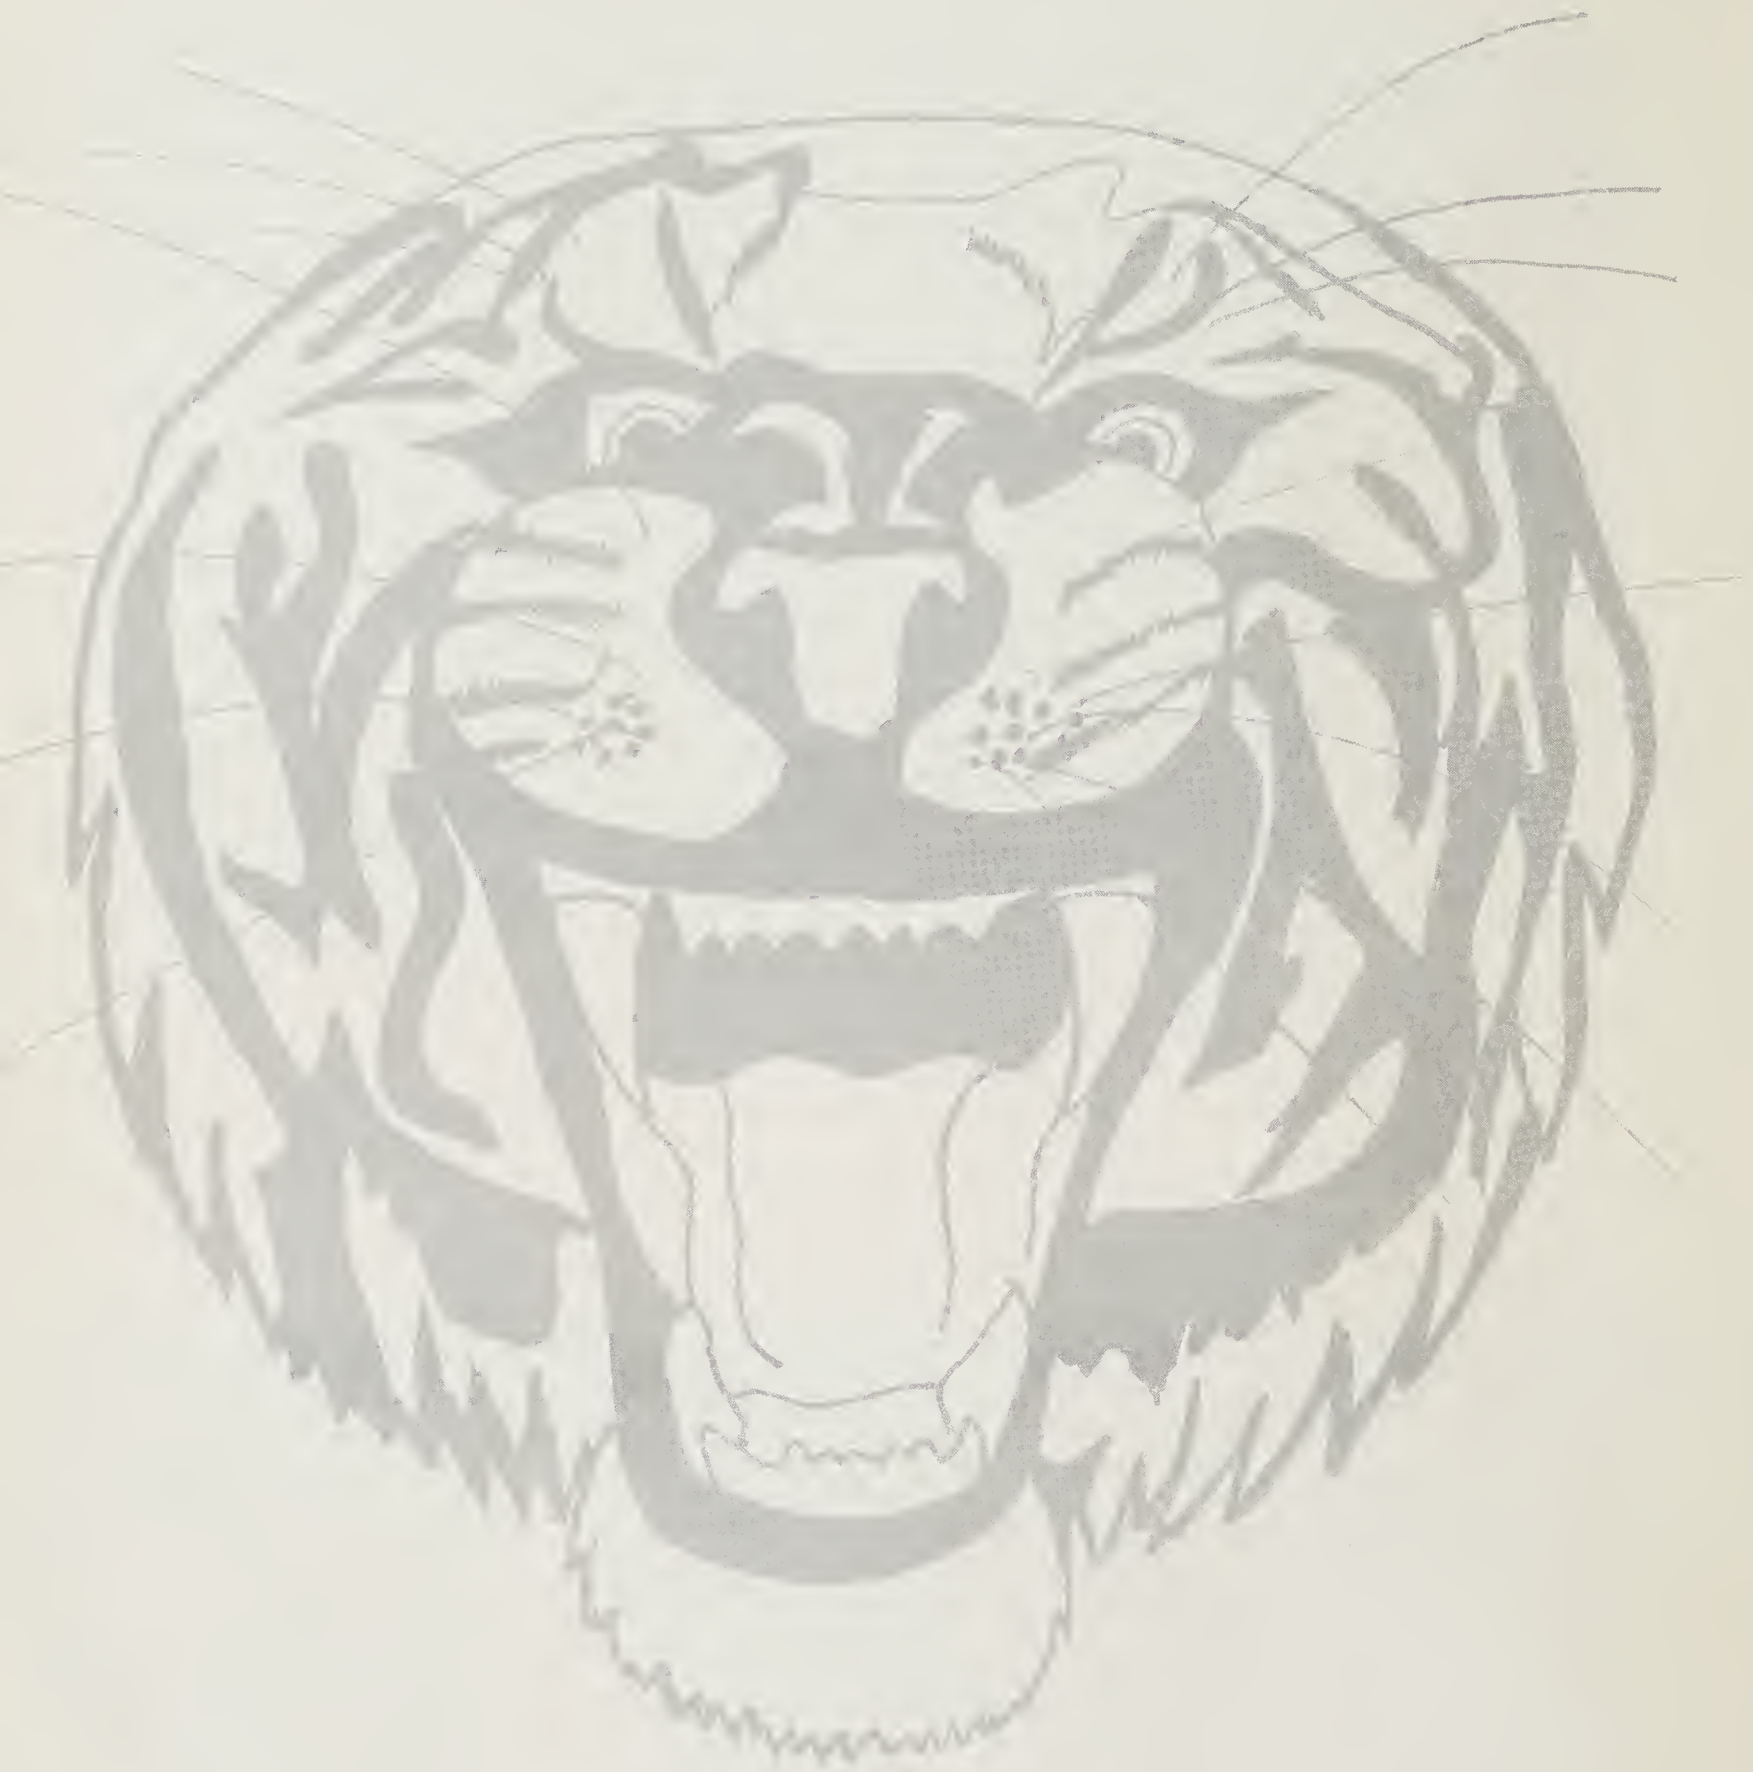

Your noble deeds shall in us live,

'Til time shall end our praise.

Senior Mixed Chorus

"In Concert"

The on-campus programs of the 1965-66 term have varied as to theme and format, but this they have had in common: beautiful and appropriate music from the vocal music groups.

Off-campus-wise, the vocal music groups are very much a part of Charlotte's cultural life. They perform for churches and other community groups. A high percentage of the groups attended two of the season's operas, "La Boheme" and "La Forza del Destino".

Boys' Glee Club

"In Rehearsal"

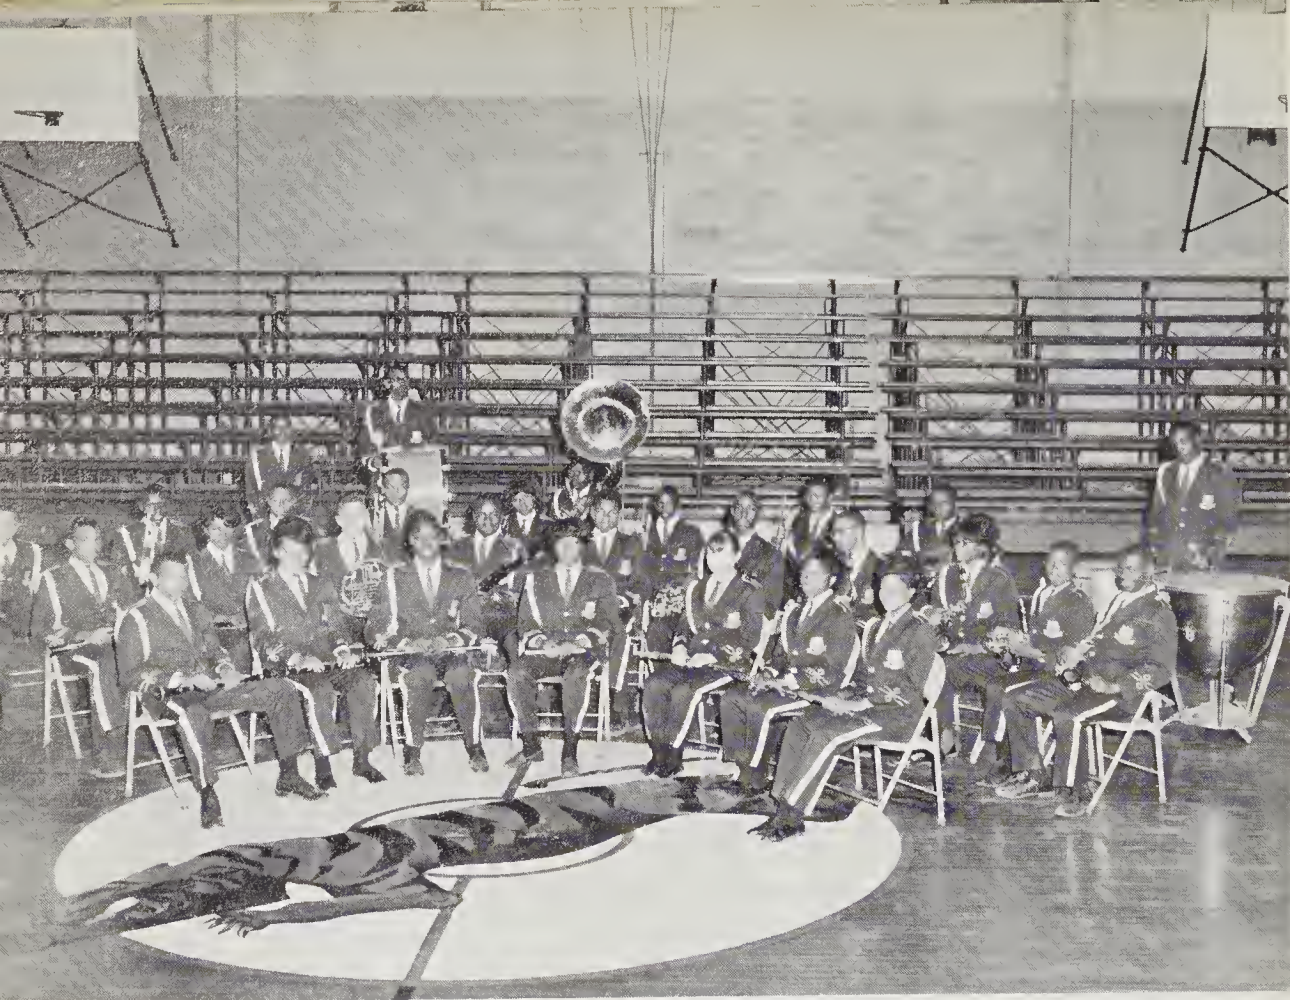

Orchestra

Junior Chorus

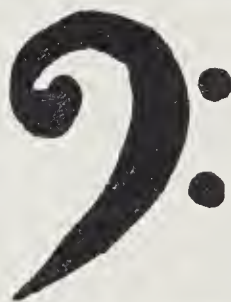

The band has been well-received wherever it has performed.

A busy round of practice lies just ahead, as they prepare for a repeat of the superior ratings that they received at last year's District and State Festivals.

Concert Band

Marching Band

We estimate that the Marching Tigers amassed a marching mileage total of sixty during the 1965 Football season, what with practice and all.

Mr. Donnell Cooper, director of instrumental music at Second Ward since 1962, has really earned the title "Mr. Music."

Being a very amiable, cooperative and talented person, his personality and approach motivates the students to perform at their best.

Many of his students have excelled individually at the Governor's School; in the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Youth Symphony Orchestra and in the all-school concert band.

The groups under his direction are the "Marching Tigers" Band, the Second Ward Little Symphony Orchestra and the concert band.

The versatility of these groups spans from a Rock 'N Roll Comboto the Little Symphony; from "Hey, Watch Those Tigers" to the score from SOUND OF MUSIC.

Thus far the groups have participated in a Winter Showcase; the Carrousel, circus and homecoming parades; Festival in the Park; Band Bowl; game intermission; and programs at school and in the community.

In competition the groups have received both excellent and superior ratings which are well deserved.

Linda Sheridan, an outstanding member of the troupe, has made solo appearances locally and in nearby towns.

The halftime performances of the group add color to OUR basketball games.

You've guessed it!
It's an ART CLASS.

Academics

Friendship can't be hurried.

channel.

Elbert Edwin Waddell
Principal

Boys and girls attending high school today are in the midst of a great period of change and advancement. Never before in our history have there been so many opportunities in so many fields of endeavor. Students have only to decide what they want to do and plan accordingly. They can go as far and reach as high as their abilities and interests will permit. This is the challenge of our times.

To the students of Second Ward High School -- I offer you this challenge and say to you -- "The sky is the limit".

There is a sophomore spy in this group of seniors. Can you find him?
Clue - HE is carrying an overcoat on his arm.

The sober vs the jovial look.

The art of concentration is essential to the biology student.

It isn't tea time; this is advanced biology.

You've got to get up early to master this.

We're loyal to modern math, but oh that abacus!

The Saga of Gregory P.

The day of Exam, and Gregory P. Approaches the ordeal timorously.

The grin on his face is false, you see, foe he is approaching timorously.

Now, don't you agree, that exam is real tough? Five hundred short questions would've been enough.

His locker he opens with trembling hands. For once he has no time for female fans.

He now is emerging, a broken man. Who's worse than a demon? A teacher, Man!

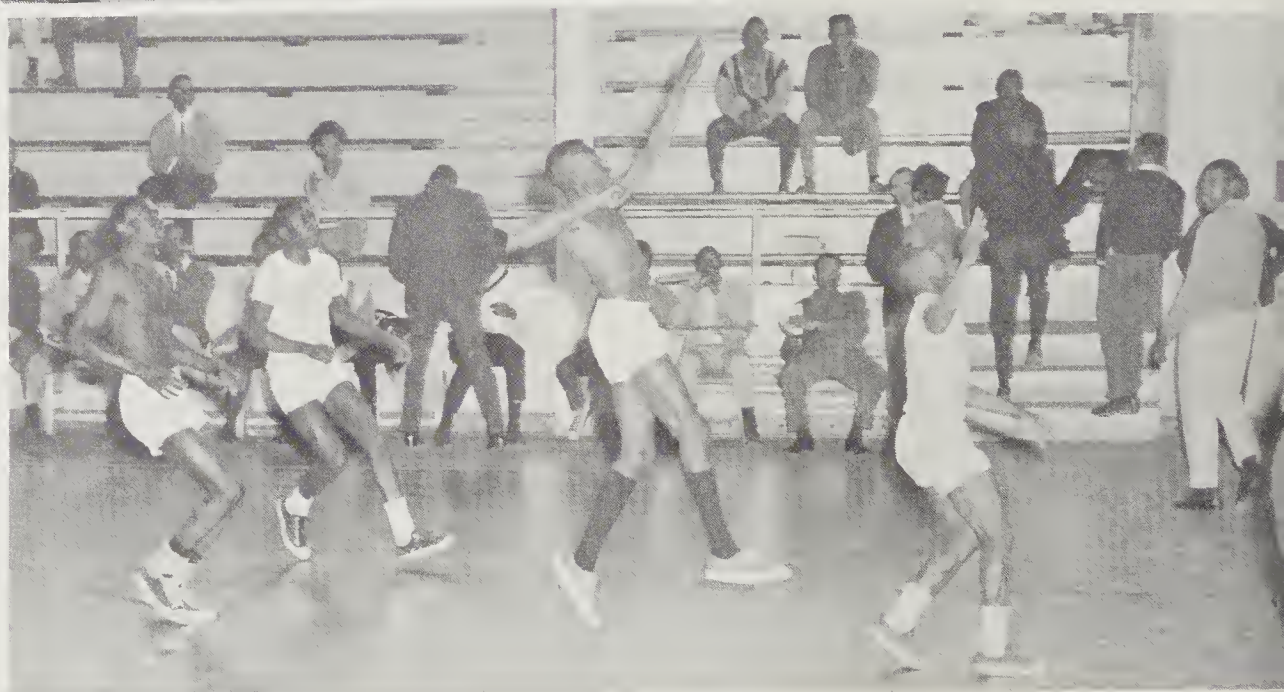

Let bygones be bygones - I've flunked I know; but a senior class President must keep on the go.
